Assault charges against 10-year-old dropped

The criminal charges may have been dropped but legal ramifications may ensue from an incident on a school playground last spring.

A game of Tips on the Eriksson Elementary School playground in April came to an abrupt halt when a 10-year-old student threw the ball at a 9-year-old classmate, striking him in the face. The child, according to reports, suffered a concussion and facial lacerations from the force of the blow.

Tips is a game played with a rubber ball that is thrown into the air and caught by players jumping in the air.

The parent of the 9-year-old filed a complaint with the school and then with the Canton Township Police claiming the incident was an assault. Police investigated and referred the information to the office of Wayne County Prosecutor Kym Worthy where criminal charges of aggravated assault were filed against the third-grade student. Those charges were almost immediately dropped and Worthy issued a formal statement regarding the incident.

> There has been quite a bit of inaccurate reporting in this case. There are also facts that played into our decision that have not, due to ethical rules, been reported.

"This case came to us as a not-In-custody case - that means that there was never an arrest. Efforts were made to resolve this matter before it was sent to us for a charge consideration. The mother of the alleged victim had every right to go to the authorities and the authorities had an obligation to investigate," Worthy said in her statement.

According to Maurice Davis, the attorney for the family of the 10-year-old, "The victim had some type of disorder that made him especially susceptible to a facial or head injury."

Cameishi Lindley, the mother of the accused child, said that she wants to take the case further as she feels that her son will forever be "the little 10-year-old black child in Canton that was charged with playing a game." She said she remains unsure of what she will do although she has had nearly $15,000 pledged for legal fees through social media in response to her Facebook comments.

Worthy said that race did not play a factor in the decision to charge or drop the case.

"When this case was reviewed by my office, no one paid attention the race of either party. It is categorically wrong to suggest that this was charged based on race or geography.

"There has been quite a bit of inaccurate reporting in this case. There are also facts that played into our decision that have not, due to ethical rules, been reported," Worthy said in her statement. "I have no doubt that both families involved love their children and want the best for them. But I do think that there is a better way to go forward at this time. And the cooperation of all parties is need-

Changes are planned for Plymouth Fall Festival next month

As the countdown to the Plymouth Fall Festival continues, organizers and civic groups are finalizing a few changes to the traditional attractions set for Sept. 6, 7 and 8 this year.

The festival will be open from noon until 10 p.m. Friday, from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m. Saturday and from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Sunday.

All the traditional and much anticipated events will return including the car show, the craft sale and Bingo along with the famous Kiwanis Pancake Breakfast and the famous Rotary Chicken Barbeque on Sunday.

One big change is the new location of the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club Taste Fest set for 6-8 p.m. Friday. This year, the Taste Fest will take place in the Veterans' Tent located behind E.G. Nick's restaurant on Forest Avenue in downtown Plymouth.

Kathy Turnquist of the Civitans who helps organize the event said she is very pleased with the new location, putting the Taste-Fest closer to the other festival events.

The Veterans' Tent, formerly the Party Tent, will accommodate the more than 15 restaurants already scheduled to participate in the Taste-Fest which will feature live entertainment, beer tasting and a cash bar. Presale tickets are already available at $15 for adults and $5 for ages 5-10. Those 5 and younger are admitted at no cost with an adult admission. Tickets at the door this year will be $20 and $10 for children 5-10 years old. Advance tickets are available for purchase at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, 850 West Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth and at E.G. Nick's.

"We are really looking forward to it," noted Frank Agostini at E.G. Nick's. "This year we are able to participate, along with helping host the event."

Agostini said that the Veteran's Tent will remain open following the Taste Fest for the traditional Friday night festival party with entertainment from Smoke 'n' Mirrors beginning at 8:30 p.m. and ending at midnight.

"The $5 cover charge at the tent after the Taste Fest goes directly to the Plymouth Canton veterans group," Agostini said. "The crowd usually fills the place to hear the band and people are pretty generous, knowing the cover goes to help the vets. If there is anything we can do to help these guys, we try to do it."

There is a change in the Rotary Club of Plymouth AM Spaghetti Dinner, too. The dinner, set for 4-8 p.m. Saturday,

Annual memorial for slain police officers set in Inkster

A memorial service for Inkster Police officers killed in the line of duty is planned for 11:30 a.m. Friday, Aug. 9 at the Inkster Police Department.

There will be a luncheon following the service at the Booker Dozier Recreation Complex.

Honored will be Ofc. Kenneth E. Woodmore who was killed by gunfire June 17, 1994 and Sgt. Ira Parker, 41, a 15-year police veteran; Ofc. Daniel Dubiel, 38, a 15-year veteran, and Ofc. Clay Hoover, 25, who had joined the Inkster force only four months before being slain during the July 9, 1987 shooting at the Bungalow Motel.

Each of the officers had been shot five to nine times before a 10-hour standoff at the motel ended at about 3:30 a.m. with the surrender of 68-year-old Alberta Easter and her three heavily-armed sons from the barricaded motel room.

Hoover and Dubiel had been dispatched to the motel on a routine call to serve warrants on Easter and one of her sons for bad checks issued to a rental car agency. The two entered the room where Easter asked for help for one of her sons who had recently had a medical emergency. The officers then requested help from Parker, their supervisor. Investigations concluded that when Parker arrived and entered the motel room, all the officers were shot multiple times. During the 10-hour standoff, Easter continued to tell police negotiators that the officers were still alive.

Hoover and Dubiel had gone to the motel to serve the warrants at about 5:15 p.m. Thursday and then requested the help of Parker, their supervisor. When the three officers were in the motel room a volley of about 20 shots was heard by witnesses who called police. The four officers who responded were also fired on and forced to retreat while more officers responded. Hundreds of rounds were fired during the standoff. Police used tear gas but Easter and her sons had gas masks and continued the standoff while hundreds of police, Michigan State Police troopers, and FBI agents converged at the site.

Easter and her sons eventually surrendered.

Easter was charged with first-degree murder as were her sons; Roy Lemons Jr. 47; George Lester Lemons, 45; and William Monroe Lemons, 43. All were found guilty and sentenced to three life terms in prison. The mother died in prison June 12, 2011. One of her sons died in prison in 1996.

The memorial service is open to the public. The police station is located at 26279 Michigan Ave.

Westland man facing criminal child-pornography charges

Troopers from the Michigan State Police Computer Crimes Unit, Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force, arrested a 56-year-old Westland man for possession of child sexually abusive material.

According to a statement from police, Paul Collins Lachance, was arrested and arraigned on the charges on July 16, in 18th District Court.

Police said the investigation began earlier this year, when authorities became aware of Lachance possessing child sexually abusive material online. Further investigation and the execution of a search warrant at his home led to his arrest.

In addition to the three counts of possession of child sexually abusive material, Lachance is charged with three counts of using a computer to commit a crime.

A spokesman from the Michigan State Police encouraged parents to speak to their children about the safe use of the internet. There are many resources available to parents to assist in keeping children safe online, he said. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children provides a comprehensive list of resources on their website at http://www.missingkids.org.

Anyone with information regarding possible child sexual exploitation is asked to report it to the CyberTipLine at http://www.missingkids.org/cybertipline.

Leisure service programs are now 'sensory inclusive'

Canton Leisure Services is partnering with KultureCity, a leading non-profit organization committed to creating more inclusive communities nationwide, in an effort to ensure programs and events are sensory inclusive and welcoming to all. This new initiative will provide an accommodating environment for participants, enabling guests with sensory issues to have a positive experience when taking part in a Canton Leisure Services program or event, officials said.

To date, Canton Leisure Services is the first park and recreation agency in the U.S. to receive Sensory Inclusive certification from KultureCity. This certification process included staff training led by medical professionals on how to recognize individuals with sensory needs and how to handle a sensory overload situation. Sensory bags, equipped with noise-canceling headphones, fidget tools, verbal cue cards, and weighted lap pads will now be available for all guests to utilize. In addition, facility signs will indicate noisier spaces as "Headphone Zones." Staff will also be able to direct guests to quieter or less stimulating areas in facilities or at events. Prior to attending an event, families can download the free KultureCity App where one can view what sensory features are available and where they can access them. The App also includes the Social Story, which will provide a preview of what to expect while enjoying a Canton Leisure Services event.

"Canton Leisure Services is committed to ensuring that all of our programs and events are inclusive and welcoming to all individuals who are interested in participating," said Greg Hohenberger, Canton Leisure Services director. "By providing sensory inclusive resources to our guests, we hope that more individuals will take part in Canton community events and not avoid them due to loud noises and possibly over-stimulating environments."

> Canton Leisure Services is committed to ensuring that all of our programs and events are inclusive and welcoming to all individuals who are interested in participating.

Sensory sensitivities or challenges with sensory regulation are often experienced by individuals with autism, dementia, PTSD and other similar conditions. One of the major barriers for these individuals is sensitivity to overstimulation and noise, which is an enormous part of the environment in a high traffic area. With its new certification, Canton Leisure Services is now better prepared to assist guests with sensory sensitivities in having the most comfortable and accommodating experience possible when visiting a Canton Leisure Services facility.

"To know that you soon will be able to see families attend a family-friendly community event in Canton, with their loved ones who have a sensory challenge and who were not able to previously attend, is truly a heartwarming moment," said Traci Johnson, KultureCity executive director. "Our communities are what shapes our lives and to know that Canton Leisure Services is willing to go the extra mile to ensure that everyone, no matter their ability, is included in their community is amazing."

KultureCity is a leading nonprofit recognized nationwide for using resources to revolutionize and effect change in the community for those with sensory needs; not just those with Autism. In the past year alone, KultureCity has created several sensory inclusive venues and events including the NFL Pro-Bowl, NFL Super Bowl, MLB All-Star Weekend, 18 NBA arenas, six NFL stadiums, five NHL arenas three MLB arenas, and countless zoos, science centers and aquariums across the nation.

Canton Leisure Services has been accredited since 2004 by the Commission for Accreditation of Park and Recreation Agencies (CAPRA), which recognizes park and recreation agencies for excellence in operation and service. Currently, there are 175 CAPRA accredited agencies in the United States. Canton Leisure Services was also recognized as the 2008 winner of the National Recreation and Parks Association Gold Medal Award for Excellence in Park and Recreation Management.

Flags lowered to honor deceased Canton soldier

Gov. Gretchen Whitmer ordered the U.S. and Michigan flags to be displayed half-staff throughout the state of Michigan last Monday to honor the service of fallen soldier Chief Warrant Officer 2 Kevin Sullivan and coincide with his military funeral.

Sullivan, 34, grew up in Canton and attended Our Lady of Good Counsel School in Plymouth and graduated from Detroit Catholic Central where he played on two state champion football teams. He graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a bachelor's degree in history and geography.

> Sullivan, 34, grew up in Canton Township and attended Our Lady of Good Counsel School in Plymouth and graduated from Detroit Catholic Central High School.

After high school, he enlisted in the Army in June of 2003 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson in Columbia, South Carolina. He served two tours of duty in the Middle East, at Baghdad's Camp Liberty, with Operation Iraqi Freedom from 2006 through 2008, and in Kuwait, with Operation Enduring Freedom from 2016 through 2017. He continued in the Army Reserves when not on active duty.

Chief Warrant Officer Sullivan was killed during a training exercise at Fort Pickett in Virginia when a large tree fell during severe weather. Two other soldiers were also injured when the tree struck a parked Humvee near them.

Sullivan is survived by his parents, a sister, and his fiancée, Holly Martin and her daughters, Zina and Layla.

"Kevin Sullivan dedicated his life to service to this nation, and for that we are truly grateful," Whitmer said. "We owe him a tremendous debt of gratitude that we will work hard to repay every day. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family during this difficult time."

Van Buren trustees approve 7 demolitions

Van Buren Township will use $76,581 of Community Block Grant funding this year to demolish seven vacant and apparently abandoned structures in the township.

The money could be reclaimed when and if the property on which the structures now exist is sold or title transferred as the township will put a lien for demolition costs on each of the seven separate parcels.

According to Director of Public Services Matthew Best, the properties have long remained vacant and have been deemed as unsafe for human occupancy. He said that due legal process has been followed on each property. He said the structures had been tagged and multiple written notices sent to the owners of record advising them to correct the violations or demolish the buildings. He added that an opportunity to appeal the notice was also provided in each instance. He said that in nearly every case the property owners have not responded making demolition the next step.

Trustees approved the demolition costs for: two barns in severe disrepair, at the southeast corner of Tyler and Morton Taylor; two detached sheds/garage at 7537 Beck Road; a principal dwelling and two detached structures at 50725 Michigan Ave.; a principal dwelling at 44440 Hull Road; a principal dwelling and detached garage at 6935 Belleville Road; a dwelling and barn left unsafe at 50115 Bog Road and a detached garage and lean-to at 13970 Haggerty Road.

Local students win $2500 scholarships

Among the 33 winners of the $82,500 in scholarships for the 2018-2019 school year awarded by Comcast NBCUniversal Foundation were Macdennis Ikpeama of Belleville and Yunseo Cho of Canton Township. Cho attends Salem High School and Ikpeama is a student at Arbor Preparatory High School

Students are selected for their outstanding community service, academic performance and leadership skills, according to the foundation. The award is a one-time, $2,500 scholarship to be used toward undergraduate education-related expenses. Since 2001, more than $33 million has been awarded to nearly 30,000 high school seniors across the country as part of the Leaders and Achievers program.

"This year's scholarship recipients demonstrated an incredible passion and determination to excel academically and in the community," said Tim Collins, senior vice president for the heartland region, which includes Michigan, Indiana and Kentucky. "We are honored to recognize them and support their continuing educational journeys."

The philosophy behind the program is to give young people every opportunity to prepare for the future and to engage them in their communities. The program also demonstrates the importance and value of civic involvement, especially by the business community.

NORTHVILLE - PLYMOUTH

Tipping Point presenting 'Anatomy of a Hug'

Tipping Point Theatre in Northville will present the Michigan Premiere of Anatomy of a Hug by Kat Ramsburg through Aug. 25.

Lead character in the play, Amelia, grew up in the American Foster Care system, bouncing from house to house, never finding her forever home. Turning to television as an escape, Amelia found a family in the characters on the screen. They made her laugh, taught her important life lessons, and, most importantly, never left her.

Now in her 30s, Amelia enters the sound stage of her own personal dark comedy when her mother, on compassionate release from jail, moves into her one-bedroom apartment hoping to reconnect.

The cast brings Sandra Birch and Dani Cochrane, two Tipping Point favorites, back to the stage as the disconnected mother and daughter duo.

Michael Lopetrone and Tiffany Aisha King make their debut at Tipping Point as the determined love interest and compassionate care-taker, respectively.

> Tipping Point Theatre is a non-profit professional theatre at the end of its 12th season in historic downtown Northville.

Anatomy of a Hug is directed by Beth Torrey, who previously directed a staged reading of the script at the former Performance Network in Ann Arbor and is very excited to bring it to the stage for a full production. A long standing contributing artist to Tipping Point Theatre, she directed the Tipping Point Wilde Award Winning 2015 production of Leaving Iowa, the highest-grossing show Sexy Laundry, and Office Hours in 2017. She has also directed at many local professional theatres and is a former Purple Rose Theatre Company apprentice.

For ticketing information, access www.TippingPointTheatre.com or call the box office at (248) 347-0003
